

How to use your Homework Diary and Reading Record

Each double page spread will be used for a week in school. On the right hand side, please record any reading your child does at home. There are 5 spaces but you may squeeze in extra reading if you would like to! This should take no more than 10 minutes a day.

On the left hand side, please record any 'other learning' your child completes at home. This may be work set by your child's teacher or it could be activities you do with your child that include a learning element. This could include:

- Maths and Grammar home learning
- Maths games
- Spelling activities/ practise
- Sumdog
- Spelling Frame
- Research/ themed based learning
- Baking (weights and measures)
- Telling the time

Please speak to your child's teacher if you would like support to establish a home learning routine which works around your family commitments.

To support this, we will get in touch when we notice the reading record or home learning isn't complete. Initial contact will be via a reminder slip. We look forward to working together to support your child's home learning routine.

Please let us know if you have any queries.

Many thanks,
